

SHORTLIST FOR THE 2020 BRANFORD BOASE AWARD ANNOUNCED

The shortlist for the 2020 Branford Boase Award has been announced. Founded in 2000 to commemorate author Henrietta Branford and influential Walker Books editor Wendy Boase, the Branford Boase is awarded to the author of an outstanding debut novel for children. Uniquely, it also honours the editor of the winning title and highlights the importance of the editor in nurturing new talent.

Previous winners and shortlisted authors include Frances Hardinge, Meg Rosoff, Mal Peet, Philip Reeve, Frank Cottrell Boyce, Patrick Ness and Marcus Sedgwick and it's always worth checking the shortlist for future stars.

Julia Eccleshare, one of the founders of award and chair of the judges says: "In highlighting the most exciting new authors and the most talented editors, the Branford Boase Award also identifies the preoccupations and strengths of current children's literature and we are pleased to say that this year's shortlist is particularly rich and diverse. Here are extremely powerful, challenging stories tackling complex issues alongside funny, exciting, original fiction; the range of voices represented is unparalleled in the award's twenty-year history. We are excited not only about the books on the shortlist, but about what their authors will write next too."
